By: Marissa Beyer, CFP® It's hard to believe the year is half way over.

Thank you for all the members that came to the summer social at Merwin's Warf. We had a great turnout and it was nice to see both new and old faces! Your FPA board has been working hard on programming for the second half of the year and we are excited about the upcoming fall.

Please make sure if you have not already to save ber 24th at Corporate College East. As a reminder, our key note speakers will be Michael Kitces and David Lebovitz from J.P. Morgan Asset Management. We also have break out sessions in the afternoon with presentations on reverse mortgages, and habits of millionaires. Our favorite, ethics expert Dan Candura, will be presenting at the same time as the break outs and is creating a new and interactive ethics presentation for our group. The current schedule is below along with information about registration and continuing education. For our November meeting, instead of doing an offsite location, we will

The 7th Annual FPA Ohio Advocacy Day was a great success with over twenty FPA members from around Ohio attending! We kicked off our Advocacy Day for 2019 with an evening welcome reception at the State House for Legislators and Ohio FPA members. This was a great opportunity to casually meet with several Ohio Legislators that stopped by to learn about FPA Advocacy Day. We engaged in meaningful meetings with regulators, such as; the Director of the Ohio Dept. of Insurance, the offices of the Ohio Division of Securities, and the Director and Assistant Director of the Ohio Dept. of Commerce. Advocacy Day for the FPA in Ohio allows its members to develop a working relationship with Ohio Legislators by being a resource and providing critical insight for proposed financial legislation. We provide advocacy from a fiduciary perspective for Ohio investors. The main topics of discussion on our agenda this year focused around (HB78/SB158) "Protecting Vulnerable Adults from Financial Exploitation" The FPA supports this as our mission to provide fiduciary service to our clients and to protect their assets. We discussed that the bill includes immunity to advisors from civil & administrative liability for making disclosures to the government. The second agenda item we reviewed in our meetings centered around the FPA's position that we oppose taxation of Financial Planning Services on the state level. We concluded our discussions with our legislators reminding them how important pro-bono work is to the FPA and how it impacts the residents of the state of Ohio, the importance of being a Fiduciary and having appropriate regulation of financial planners and the use of the term. NE SEAT OF GOVERNMEN

The FPA Chapters of Ohio are appreciative of our relationships with Ohio lawmakers and are here to help clients and financial planning professionals through our Advocacy efforts. Please do not hesitate to let us know how we may be of service in your efforts to improve the financial wellbeing of the citizens of Ohio! We would also like to thank Dollar Bank and SIT Mutual Funds for helping to sponsor the welcome reception at the State House. For information on attending FPA Ohio Advocacy Day in 2020 please contact Kenneth J. Paull, CFP® @ kpaull@sequoiafinancial.com

By: Robert Casarona, CFP® After starting the year with a few successful events, NexGen continued our momentum with another great Networking event at the Indians game. Both the game and the networking were successful, as we saw 20 young professionals make it out to watch our Indians beat the Astros. Thank you for everyone that attended and made the event a success. This fall, we plan on holding an educational Happy Hour Event and our annual volunteering event. This year, we will be sorting books at the Cleveland Kids Book Bank. If you are interested in getting involved, keep an eye out for the announcements for both events.

joined us at Merwin's Wharf last month for our summer social. We had about 50 attendees which allowed for some fun socializing in a great atmosphere! Our last (fall) social of the year will be on October 8th with the location TBD. If you have any prospective new members please feel free to email me their contact information. I'd be happy to reach out and invite them to our September meeting as my guest so they can experience our dynamic group. DAN FENING Client Executive
